Here is your LinkedIn post for today:
Day 36/100 🚀
Building logic from the ground up while automating the future.
Today I learned:
🔷 C programming: a powerful language that teaches you exactly how code interacts with hardware.
🔷 Python: a versatile tool that makes it incredibly easy to bridge different applications.
🔷 n8n and Telegram: how to connect these platforms to build an automated bot for conducting interview-style chats.
💡 Key takeaway: Understanding the low-level logic of C helps me appreciate the high-level automation power of tools like n8n.
Steadily improving my technical skills and building more interactive projects.
Looking forward to learning more! 💻
